The MOM open online course is live!

The MOM partners are very pleased to let you know that the MOM online course is now live and available for you to access. This past year the partners have worked hard to develop two online courses; one for trainers and another one for mothers. These exciting and innovative online courses are now available for everyone free of charge thanks to funding from the Erasmus+ Programme.

Do you want to explore the many skills you have gained as a mother? Do you already recognise how many of these skills are transferable skills for employment?

Check out the courses now here:
